

Simple Laxative Remedy Best for Constipation

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin
Gave Satisfaction When Nothing Else Would

Nearly every one at one time or another suffers from constipation, or inactive bowels, and one of the few conclusions upon which the doctors agree is that regularity of the bowels is an essential to good health.

In the family medicine chest of most well-ordered households will be found one or more of the various remedies recommended for the relief of constipation. In the majority of homes to-day the combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is recognized as the standard laxative. Druggists everywhere report a constantly increasing demand for this splendid remedy, which is sold for fifty cents a bottle.

Mr. James Ash, 102 Green St., Cumberland, Md., wrote to Dr. Caldwell that he found Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin the most effective remedy for constipation he had ever used and that he always keeps a bottle of it on hand for use when necessary. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a mild laxative, and does not gripe or strain, but acts gently and brings relief in an easy, natural manner. Its

BRITAIN NEGOTIATING WITH AMERICAN BANKERS

For Another Direct Loan of Not Less Than $200,000,000.

New York, Oct. 24.—Negotiations with American bankers for another direct British loan of not less than $200,000,000, and maybe as much as $300,000,000, are approaching completion, according to intimations conveyed today by the fiscal and commercial representatives of the British government.

Inquiry for the loan from financial and investment sources is said to be so general as to insure its successful flotation. It is at present planned to arrange the loan or notes in three classes of even amounts, the first installment payable in 1919, and the remaining two-thirds in the two years following.

The loan will be a direct obligation on the kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, like the existing $250,000,000 issue, and will probably bear the same rate of interest, namely, 5 1/2 per cent. It will be secured by American and foreign collateral, mostly bonds and preferred shares having an aggregate market value of at least 20 per cent. in excess of the total amount to be offered.

A syndicate of banks, trust companies and private bankers in this city and other leading financial centers has been organized to take part in the negotiations as direct participants, with J. P. Morgan & company as managers.

CHARGED WITH MURDERING WIFE AND THREE CHILDREN

Thomas Metzler of Chester, Ill., the Accused, Makes General Denial.

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 24.—Thomas Metzler, a watchman, was taken to Chester, Ill., today to answer to the charge of murdering George Douglas, his wife and three children on May 5, 1916.

Sheriff Weaver, who made the arrest, said Metzler had been indicted for the crime. Douglas' house near Coulterville, Ill., was burned on May 5, 1916, and the entire family perished. The day before the fire Douglas had withdrawn several hundred dollars from the bank, and the theory was that robbery was the motive for the murder and that the house was burned to conceal the crime.

Metzler today denied having any knowledge of the crime.

History Lehigh Valley Anti-Trust Suit

Federal Charges of Restraint of Trade in Violation of the Anti-Trust Law and Violation of the Commodities Clause by Transportation of Coal Were Not Sustained in the Lower Court, But Government Has Appealed to the Supreme Court.

Washington, Oct. 24.—The Lehigh Valley Railroad company and affiliated rail, coal production and sales companies were charged with a separate monopoly in anthracite coal along the Lehigh Valley road's lines in Pennsylvania in a suit begun by the government March 14, 1914. Two principal charges were made—restraint of trade in violation of the anti-trust law and violation of the commodities clause by the transportation of coal in which the railroad had an interest.

Neither charge was sustained in the lower court and the government's suit was dismissed by Federal Judge Hough at New York Dec. 21, 1914. He based his decision, however, upon a circuit court decree finding the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railroad not guilty of violating the commodities clause, which the supreme court later reversed. Thereupon the government appealed the present case against the Lehigh Valley.

The supreme court was asked by the government to give the railroad company a decree to break up, principally by means of redistribution of ownership of stock, the alleged anthracite combination of the Lehigh Valley Railroad, Delaware, Lackawanna and Western, and the Lehigh Valley Coal company and subsidiaries.

Ownership of 90 per cent. of stock of the railroad, coal and sales companies was especially attacked, and the government sought to compel the railroad company to "dispose of the stocks of its subsidiary coal companies to persons who are neither its stockholders nor its agents nor in any way under its control and influence."

Ownership of 90 per cent. of stock of the railroad, coal and sales companies was especially attacked, and the government sought to compel the railroad company to "dispose of the stocks of its subsidiary coal companies to persons who are neither its stockholders nor its agents nor in any way under its control and influence."

Excessive Freight Charges Alleged. Excessive freight charges to competitors, rebates and preferences to Lehigh Valley subsidiaries also were alleged. Ownership of the Lehigh Valley Coal Sales company in 1912, with its contract to buy at the mines, all coal produced by the railroad's coal companies, whose entire stock the railroad owned, was declared to be an attempt to evade the commodities clause. The sales company, it was alleged, was a mere unit of the railroad company to that end and not actually independently controlled.

In defense, the Lehigh Valley interests contended that more than 28 per cent. of coal acreage tributary to the railroad lines was controlled. They denied charging excessive rates to competitors or granting unlawful preferences or financial aid to the coal companies.

Defendants Named by Government. Defendants named by the government were the Lehigh Valley Railroad company, of Pennsylvania, Lehigh Valley Coal company, Lehigh Valley Coal Sales company, Cox Bros. & Co., Delaware, Susquehanna and Schuylkill railroad, New York and Middle Coal Sales company, G. B. McKee Coal company, of Philadelphia, and others. Individual officers and directors of the various companies, including the late George F. Baer, Daniel G. Reid, Eben B. Thomas, Lyman B. Smith, E. T. Etoesbury, George F. Baker and others prominent in the financial and railroad world, The Girard Trust company of Philadelphia was also made a party, but merely as the trustee holder of several millions of securities of the defendant corporations.

Competing Companies Absorbed. Numerous competing rail and coal properties, including subsidiaries, made defendants, have been absorbed by the Lehigh Valley, the government charged. Purchase by the railroad company of Cox Bros. & Co., having assets of $35,000,000, including 34,429 acres of coal lands, but the coal company, whose head offices are at Wilkesbarre, confines its activities to production. Its entire output being sold under contract to the Lehigh Valley, with all having one common directors and stockholders. Also the coal company has a contract with the G. B. McKee company of Philadelphia for receipt of the latter's entire output.

In view of the various interrelations, the government contended, and the railroad denied, that the production, sale and transportation of anthracite was under substantially the same stock ownership and control and in violation of the Sherman act and commodities clause.

SALTS IS FINE FOR KIDNEYS, QUIT MEAT

Flush the Kidneys at once when Back hurts or Bladder bothers—Meat forms uric acid.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which clogs the kidney pores so they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood, then you get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous uric acid solvent, cleanses the blood and restores the system to normal, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which all regular meat eaters should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.
